

Oregon Psychological Association Webinar Series

Assessing and Responding to Suicide Risk in Youth

Presented by:
Hannah Lawrence, PhD

Attend online or in person.
Register at www.opa.org

2 HOURS OF CEU

Friday
MARCH

10

1:00 pm – 3:00 pm

Workshop Description

This course will discuss the prevalence of, and risk factors for, suicidal ideation, behavior, and death by suicide in youth. Evidence-based, practical tools for assessing suicide risk in youth will be discussed and collaborative approaches to safety planning will be reviewed.

Workshop Objectives

By the end of this presentation, attendees will be able to

1. Understand risk factors for suicidal ideation and behavior in children and adolescents
2. Identify evidence-based tools for assessing suicide risk in youth
3. Learn how to develop a safety plan with child and adolescent clients

Speaker

Hannah Lawrence, PhD

Hannah Lawrence, PhD is a child clinical psychologist and assistant professor in the School of Psychological Science at Oregon State University. Clinically, Dr. Lawrence specializes in working with children and adolescents and has practiced in high acuity settings including psychiatric inpatient and partial programs serving youth. Dr. Lawrence's research focuses on identifying novel risk factors for adolescent depression and suicide and developing new, scalable interventions to reduce this risk.

OPA has a new registration option. If you are unable to attend in person or virtually the day of the webinar, you can now register to receive a link to the recording of the webinar which will be emailed to you approximately one week after the webinar concludes.